THORNTON TO ADDRESS SSAA

Donna Thornton, 1983 Miss Wheelchair Alabama and a member of the Alabama Governor's Commission for Employment for the Handicapped, will be the guest speaker at the January meeting of the Shelton State Alumni Association.

Miss Thornton, a student at Shelton State, was injured in a 1981 automobile accident which left her a quadriplegic. As Miss Wheelchair Alabama, she serves as a good-will ambassador for the handicapped. She speaks to groups and organizations about the abilities handicapped individuals offer.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in room 87 and is open to the public. A reception honoring Miss Thornton will follow the meeting. Any student who has attended Shelton State Community College for at least one quarter is eligible for membership in the Shelton State Alumni Association.

THE AFRO AMERICAN ASSOCIATION WILL MEET TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1984, IN ROOM 86 at 12:30 P.M. EVERYONE INTERESTED IN THE GROUP IS INVITED TO ATTEND.

MOBILE ARTIST EXHIBITS AT SHELTON

MOBILE artist John H. Cleverdon will exhibit 17 pieces in acrylics, graphite, and mixed media in a display at the Junior College library beginning January 6, and continuing through January 27. Cleverdon, professor of art at the University of South Alabama, received his M.A. in art (specializing in woodcuts and printmaking) from the University of Alabama in 1957. His recent exhibitions include a one-man show in October at the University of South Alabama, the Mobile Art Association Annual Juried Show, the Mobile Watercolor and Graphic Arts Society Show, and the Dekalb, Illinois National Print and Drawing competition '84.

The exhibit will be open to the public Monday - Thursday, 8 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Friday, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the Junior College Library.

"DEATHTRAP" OPENS

The mystery thriller, "Deathtrap", opens January 12 for a four-day run at the Bama Theatre. Under the direction of the Tuscaloosa Community Players, the production follows the highly successful "Annie" as the local group's second offering of the 1983-84 season. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, with a 2:30 matinee on Sunday.

FROM THE LIBRARY

Thanks to beautiful new bookcase built by Bobby Wyatt, the Library has expanded its reference section and relocated some of its resources. For your convenience, the paperback collection, city and telephone directories, and Oxford English Dictionary (OED) have been moved to the new shelving surrounding the "lounge" area of the library. Signs have been placed in the area to point out changes.

SHELTON STUDENT FEATURED IN BLUEGRASS MAGAZINE

Nineteen year old Sharon Winters, Shelton student and fiddler supreme, was featured recently in a story in BLUEGRASS magazine. Miss Winters is a third generation fiddler, whose first exposure to traditional music came from her family. Last year she placed seventh in the Grand Nationals competition. (Of special interest is the fact that the author of the article is Nancy Callahan, daughter of Temo Callahan of Friday Night Jamboree fame.)

SHELTON CONDUCTS BOARD DEVELOPMENT NEEDS ASSESSMENT

As an initial step in the Building Better Boards for Community Organizations' project, Shelton State Community College will conduct a board development needs assessment during the month of February. As part of the project, Shelton will send a questionnaire to presidents and executive directors of non-profit boards in the West Alabama area.

JANUARY 19, 1984 IS THE LAST DATE TO DROP CLASSES WITHOUT PENALTY.

FROM THE FIRE COLLEGE

The Alabama State Fire College is planning an appreciation luncheon honoring all the fire chiefs in the state of Alabama as part of the annual Fire Chief's conference scheduled for February 7-10 at the Fire College. The luncheon will be at noon on Saturday, February 11, and will include the wives of the chiefs as well as local dignitaries. A tour of the corporate headquarters of Gulf States Paper Corporation will be included as part of the morning activities for the wives.

LOCAL TUSCALOOSAN TO CONDUCT STAR SERIES PRESENTATION

Local Tuscaloosan Ransom Wilson will conduct Solisti New York, Chamber Orchestra, on January 19 at 8 p.m. at the Bama Theatre as part of the Star Series. Solisti New York is a chamber orchestra composed of some of New York City's finest freelance musicians. Wilson is an artist of unique and electrifying musicianship and has been acclaimed for his performances and recordings throughout the United States and abroad.

GERMAN ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Bessie German, director of Educational Talent Search, will attend a conference of the Southeastern Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel February 14-17 at Hilton Head, South Carolina. German is president of the Alabama chapter of SAEOPP.

TECHNICAL TALK

The Technical Division continues its expansion of programs as the diesel mechanics program moves into new building....Two new mini courses begin this month, Emergency Medical Training on January 9 and medical recertaries on January 10.....The last day to register for the March LPN class is January 13.....Betty Jennings and Lisa Allen attended a training seminar on the AT&T communications systems to be installed at the college.

C. -SPECIAL INTEREST - Children from Shelton's child development center received a real treat when Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale made a stop at Tuscaloosa's airport while the children were there for a field trip. Mondale stopped and chatted with the children and took time out from his schedule for a picture-taking session.
